DESCRIPTION

The SOCOM338-Ti is the ultimate combat-ready sniper rifle suppressor, combining light weight and extreme sound attenuation to increase the lethality of .338 Lapua sniper rifles.

Only military-grade titanium is used in the SOCOM338-Ti, and SureFire's no-compromise engineering standards result in a high-performance suppressor with extremely close tolerances, an absolute requirement for precision sniper rifle use. The concentricity of its bore even exceeds the specifications of match-grade ammo to further maintain pinpoint accuracy. But while the SOCOM338-Ti is a lightweight, precision suppressor, it's also a veritable tank in the durability department. Its titanium construction delivers tremendous strength to match its feathery, 22-ounce weight for maximum durability in the combat zone.

And it wears the SOCOM name, ensuring that its noise-canceling baffle design is strictly based on the technically superior SureFire models that won the most extensive and rigorous suppressor trials in US Special Operations Command history. The SOCOM338-Ti can be trusted to provide maximum sound, flash and dust signature reduction, nominal and consistent shift in point of impact, and greatly reduced backpressure for increased weapon reliability. And, like all SureFire Fast-Attach® suppressors, the SOCOM338-Ti attaches/detaches in seconds with no tools required. It is the finest combat-ready .338 Lapua sniper rifle suppressor available.

Built for consistent performance and a long service life, every SureFire suppressor is proudly designed, engineered and manufactured in the USA.
