DESCRIPTION

The SOCOM762-Ti enhances Surefire's exceptional titanium suppressor line by providing the ultimate lightweight suppressor for 7.62 mm bolt-action rifles.

Constructed of lightweight titanium, the SOCOM762-Ti weighs just 11 ounces, minimizing impact on weapon handling characteristics while adhering to our no-compromise strength and durability standards. It is expertly designed and engineered to meet and exceed military sniper rifle suppressor specifications, making it an excellent suppressor choice for the 7.62 mm round.

The SOCOM762-Ti's robust internal design is the same that Surefire engineered to win the most rigorous and demanding suppressor trials in United States Special Operations Command history. Our innovative venting technology evenly distributes thermodynamic gases, greatly reducing pressure impulse effects on the projectile as it clears the muzzle. And because it bears the SOCOM name, you can be sure that the SOCOM762-Ti delivers tremendous reductions in sound, flash and dust signature; first-round flash is virtually undetectable.

Precision manufacturing tolerances, strict attention to bore concentricity and suppressor alignment result in a suppressor that minimizes group size and point-of-impact shift compared to an unsuppressed weapon. And our patented Fast-Attach® mounting system provides fast, tool-less installation and removal.

Built for consistent performance and a long service life, every Surefire suppressor is proudly designed, engineered and manufactured in the U.S.A.
